

You are English.
You have just been to Scotland
for the holidays.

You are English
but you now live in Scotland.

You are Welsh.
You live in Wales,
on the boarder
with England.
You work in England.

Your mum is Welsh and your dad is Scottish.
You now live in England.

You are Scottish and English but you have always lived in London.

Both your parents
are Irish but you have always lived in England. You go to Northern Ireland
for the holidays.

You are Irish.
You have never visited England.

You are English
but, for your job,
you go to Scotland
every week.

You're Welsh but you went to university in Scotland. Most of your friends are Scottish.