• François and Mandela's first meeting:

Before and during the meeting, François looks:

confident     disappointed     narrow-minded     relaxed     nervous

What is François's job?

For Mandela, this job is:

very easy     just like any other job     difficult     insignificant

In the conversation, Mandela mentions some English traditions. Tick the ones you hear fish and chips     eggs and bacon     rugby     cricket tea     beer     football     marmite

Mandela wonders how to:

- encourage the football team
- encourage the rugby team to give up the World Cup
- encourage the Springboks to win the Cup.

Mandela explains to François that when he was in prison on Robben Island, he found inspiration in:

- a film
- a poem
- a book
- a newspaper article

For the president, in order to build the South African nation, people need to:

- keep their traditions
- forget about traditions
- make efforts and exceed their expectations.

François explains that before big matches, the Springboks:

- stay quiet
- listen to a song chosen by their captain
- watch a film
- read a magazine
- send text messages to their relatives

What does Mandela want?
