

Canadian Schools on Wheels – Annexe 4 :

During lunch break, children often played outside the rail car with sleds.

During lunch break, children often played outside the rail car with sleds.

After a day on a school car/At the end of the day, students had to walk a long way again to go back home.

After a day on a school car/At the end of the day, students had to walk a long way again to go back home.

The teacher taught many things in the morning. For example, students learnt about the bush, about the snow and about the weather. Anything to do with Northern Ontario.

The teacher taught many things in the morning. For example, students learnt about the bush, about the snow and about the weather. Anything to do with Northern Ontario.

Everyday, the students raised the Union Jack at the back of the train to start the school day.

Everyday, the students raised the Union Jack at the back of the train to start the school day.

In the afternoon, lessons started again and students worked for several hours.

In the afternoon, lessons started again and students worked for several hours.

Students walked miles to reach the school trains, most of the time with snowshoes as it was difficult to walk in the snow.

Students walked miles to reach the school trains, most of the time with snowshoes as it was difficult to walk in the snow.